—Mr. Derry Williams - Managing Director, Bank of St. Vincent & the Grenadines

The Bank of St. Vincent and the Grenadines Ltd. over the years has promised to be committed to our communities in which we serve. Similarly, the Bank has a keen interest in the advancement and development of youth in St. Vincent and the Grenadines, and has demonstrated such interest with the production of its 2014 Calendar “Pan on Canvas” in collaboration with the members of the Contemporary Young Artist Movement (CYAM) and by being actively involved in projects such as the Barrouallie Football Club, Special Olympics, the St. Vincent and the Grenadines Coast Guard summer programme and the recently held Bank of St. Vincent and the Grenadines’ National Theatre Arts Festival. There is no doubt that the Bank has established itself as an organization that is deeply rooted within communities across St. Vincent and the Grenadines, and it is with this in mind that we present our 2015 Calendar under the theme, “The Promise of A Brighter Tomorrow” - celebrating the achievements of young Vincentians, as we continue to encourage our youth throughout their daily lives. This theme was developed at the most opportune time and serves as a tool of encouragement and inspiration for future generations.

Bank of St. Vincent and the Grenadines Ltd. recognizes the achievements of each individual and their accomplishments have been cemented in this calendar for posterity. Congratulations to all. We are extremely proud of you!

SHERNICIA M. MAYERS-MOORE

Fashion Designer

As a little girl growing up in the community of Georgetown, Shernicia had a love for sketching and a fascination with colors. She made her first outfit at age 9. Her foray into the art of designing and sewing began straight after secondary school. In 2003, she participated in Fashion Caribbean. That same year, Shernicia was featured in “She” Caribbean magazine. She was further exposed to the Fashion moguls when she attended fashion shows in Trinidad, St. Lucia, Tortola, Jamaica and New York. In 2013, her designs hit the runway at Labo Ethnic in Paris, France – one of the biggest fashion trade shows in Europe. Shernicia attributes her success to her natural God-given talent, her creative mind, hard work and support from family.
